

Successful FP7 Projects in Europe

4th March 2010
Düsseldorf, Germany

The FP7 is the programme set up by the EU in order to fund and promote European Research and Technological Development. The specific objectives that fall under this project are the following:

- To gain leadership in key scientific and technology areas;
- To stimulate the creativity and excellence of European research;
- To develop and strengthen the human potential of European research; and
- To enhance research and innovation capacity throughout Europe.

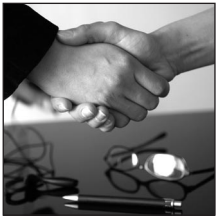

For the second time, the R & D workshop due to be held in Düsseldorf, invites researchers and entrepreneurs from North Rhine-Westphalia and partner regions in Europe to find new European R&D partners for FP7 projects. In 2010, partner regions are: Belgium, France, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Poland and Russia. The networking event will be structured in parallel brokerage sessions focussing on three topics:

ICT; Energy; Nanotechnology and Production Technologies

Malta Enterprise and The Enterprise Europe Network are currently looking for companies that shall be submitting an FP7 project in the three thematic areas mentioned above, and are currently looking for partners. Should you be interested in delivering a presentation about the project in the above mentioned workshop, kindly forward us the title of the presentation, a short abstract of the project, and some information on the partners you are looking for by not later than Wednesday 17th February 2010 12:00 p.m.
